"DON CHAOTIC"

IT seemed that every time my friends started to talk about the greatest books ever written, at least one of them would mention ' Don Quixote". This was a classic written a long time ago by a Spaniard. It was a story about a character who toured the continent on a horse, accompanied by a faithful servant . . . Sancho Pancho, or some such thing like that. Anyway, this creep Quixote thought of himself as a bold and heroic adventurer, and as a result, he was always getting into trouble. There was the time, for example, when he saw a windmill for the first time in his life . . . I guess it was in Holland, although I could be wrong. Anyway, Quixote figured this windmill and its moving arms was some kind of armored warrior, ready to do battle. So this creep Quixote rushed at the windmill with his lance pointed at this strange "enemy". I think the Spaniard was knocked off his horse helter skelter and thrown for a loop. What a dumb guy. Tilting with a windmill!

Well, you're probably wondering why I'm bringing up the subject of Don Quixote, eh? Very simple. I sorta got intrigued with the story of the wandering Spaniard and read the book. Well, I want to tell you . . . the scrapes that character got himself into on those long journeys! It was hard for me to believe that a man could really be so stupid as to tilt at windmills and fall prey to numerous and sundry other incidents and accidents which any guy in his right mind . . . well, he was nuts!

So what did I decide to do? Silly question! I made up my mind to buy a horse, hire a servant, and take the same trip Quixote did . . . only, of course, I would react like a normal human being when strange new sights met my baby blue eyes. I was no dope like this Quixote guy. So I bought a white horse. I hired a Spanish manservant and named him Sancho Pansy. That was as close as I cared to get to the original in the book. For Pansy, I bought a donkey. He would have to follow me around Europe on the donkey and like it! Finally, I gave myself a new name to conform with my new role in life . . . I was Don Chaotic, take it or leave it!

So the horse, the donkey, my man Pansy and me . . . we took a slow freighter to Holland. You see, I wanted to start with the windmills! It was a pleasant crossing, and we got to the homeland of the Dutch in due time. After the usual formalities with the customs officials, I managed to get my beautiful white charger and the donkey onto dry land. Pansy had already been briefed as to his duties during this tour with me, and he kept his eyes and ears open, and his mouth shut. I liked it that way. I intended to do all the talking myself, composing my great book as I went along. And Pansy was to copy down what I said . . . all the pearls and gems of wisdom I should spout. Later on, I would be able to make use of these notes to write the book itself.

So we mounted our animals and took off! I must admit it was a mighty funny sight, me on my horse and Pansy on the jackass, making our way through the busy streets of the city. People stared at us as we went along and there was loud laughter mingled with expressions of surprise and astonishment. I guess I couldn't exactly blame them. They had no way of knowing the purpose behind this two-animal caravan. Probably most of them had never heard of Don Quixote, the original traveler. But for the benefit of those who did know the story and would be interested in knowing the purpose of my journey, I decided to stop at a stationery store and buy a big piece of white paper and a black crayon.

It only took a minute to write out in big, bold letters: DON CHAOTIC, Continental Traveler. I tied the sign to the side of my horse, for all to see. Then, as we went along, I would smile at the puzzled passersby and point to the sign. They looked at it and suddenly burst into long-bursting laughter. They did know the story of the original Don Quixote, the Spaniard who had journeyed through their land in literature . . . and I guess the idea that in these modern times another character was trying the same thing really tickled their funny bone. The name I had given myself no doubt added to their merry laughter. I had to admit to myself that Don Chaotic was a queer name for a traveler!

At last we got out into the country. I was glad to leave the big city behind. The Spaniard had made most of his journey in the country, and it was there that he had had his adventures, or call them misadventures, if you want to. And, I am sorry to say, not an hour had passed before the first of my troubles began.

We had been going along nearly an hour, when the trouble started. We were passing some marshes which abounded in mosquitoes. Well, those nutty gnats seemed to have been waiting for us! In squadrons, they zoomed down on the rump of my horse and sunk their stingers into the flesh. WHAM! I felt nothing but air under me as the horse bucked and threw me way up. I landed in a ditch, and you might know it . . . the cousins of the first group of attacking mosquitoes must have been lying in wait for me, because they buzzed at me in a fury. They must have drained a couple quarts of blood out of my carcass before I climbed out of the swampy ditch onto the dirt road!

I turned toward Pansy, sitting nearby on his donkey, hoping to get some help. But there he was, my manservant, laughing at my predicament, the tears rolling down his cheeks as he roared uncontrollably. Well, this wouldn't do at all! My journey was just starting, and already the "enemy" had attacked me, and my own manservant had laughed in ridicule at me, instead of coming to my aid. This wasn't the way I had planned it at all!! My horse had run some distance away. When I caught up to it, I mounted, signaled for Pansy to follow, and we went on our way. I was beginning to wonder if this had all been a mistake. Here I was, trying to retrace the route taken by the original Spanish traveler in this land, intent on not getting into trouble like he did, and already I was having a rough time. Oh well, I consoled myself, the philosophers say that sometimes a bad beginning guarantees a good ending. We'd see!

Less than an hour later, I saw! That's when it happened . . . when tragedy struck! I had come around a turn in the road, and there it was . . . a roaring monster staring me in the face! I couldn't see it too well, because those mosquitoes had bitten me around the face, among other places, and my eyes were partly swollen closed. But I peered through the narrow eyelids and saw this monster standing there! It was waving its arms at me and seemed ready to attack. Well, of course here was only one thing for me to do . . . fight back. I knew I couldn't count on help from my man Pansy, so I jumped off my horse and quickly cut off a long branch from a nearby tree. Trimming it swiftly, I fashioned a pointed spear in less than a minute. Okay, I was ready for the monster!

There it was, flailing its arms. I got on my horse again and hurled myself forward to meet the foe. I pointed the spear at the belly of the monster. CRASH! The pointed tip of the spear jammed into the monster, but wouldn't keep going through the thing. It stopped so abruptly, that the end I was holding struck me in the chest. I flew off my horse, into a bush loaded with prickles! I managed to get to my feet. Through the swollen eyelids, I could make out several people running up to the scene. They saw the spear stuck in the monster. Then they saw the sign on my horse: DON CHAOTIC. Then they burst into laughter. And what was Pansy doing all this time? He was laughing his guts out too!

I asked them what was so funny. Instead of answering, they laughed all the harder, pointing at me and at the monster. I just had to see what struck them so funny. I put my fingers to my eyes and forced open the lids. Then I saw what was so funny. The "monster" which I had attacked with my spear was . . . yeah, a windmill! Its waving "arms" were those things a windmill has that go round and round! And I had thought Don Quixote was a dope!

Well, that's about the end of my story. My journey ended on the same day it began! I had set out to prove a character in literature was off his rocker, but the tables had been turned on me! So I didn't make that continental trip on horseback after all, and I didn't write my book. After all, one story about a guy who rides forth to battle a poor, defenseless windmill is enough, right? Right!

She Once Had THIN LEGS!

Now I have Fuller Calves, Shapely Thighs, Hips and Ankles."

Writes Miss R. U., Cleveland, Ohio

THE most encouraging news for women with thin, under-developed legs has just been revealed by Henry Milchstin, Ph.T. If your thin legs are due to normal causes and you haven't any disease or pathological condition, you should try to attain the strong lasting shapely legs you've always wanted. This well-known physiotherapist, who was president of the Metropolitan School of Physiotherapy and is a member of the New York State Society of Physiotherapists, has an enviable record of helping lovely stage and screen actresses as well as women like yourself to mold beautiful legs. Over a period of 32 years, he has used an amazingly natural method which is unsurpassed by anything we have ever seen.

ORDINARY METHODS FOUND TO HELP LITTLE IN FILLING OUT THIN LEGS

Many women engaged in improper strenuous exercises and calisthenics used up a lot of time and energy but it did next to nothing for rounding out skinny legs.

Other women actually tried weight gaining diets to improve skinny legs. The legs generally gain far less, if anything, in proportion than the rest of the body. Also, adding flabby fat to the legs does not necessarily result in the seductive, shapely curves which men admire and which look so appealing in anything you wear.

IN MANY CASES DOCTORS ADVISE USE OF THIS TECHNIQUE

This Progressive Scientific Method for developing skinny legs is based on the knowledge and experience of the medical profession, physiotherapists and famous body building experts throughout the world.

The wonderful, scientific method is intended to stimulate the tissues and muscle structure of the legs and encourage their development to normally rounded natural contours. When blood circulation is properly stimulated to the point where it helps nourish those lazy tissues, it also tends to tone the skin with a vibrant glow. When each section of the leg has its proper normal shape, the hips possess seductive, feminine curves which men admire, the thighs are superbly rounded, knees are daintily shaped without knobby, bony appearance, the calves fill out with soft curves, and even the ankles are pretty and appealing. Remember, the muscular structure of a woman's leg is basically different from a man's. So that when your legs develop, you only add graceful feminine curves.

"ALL-AROUND GLAMOUR LEGS" HELP WOMEN IN EVERYTHING THEY DO

Most figure experts agree that poor legs spoil an otherwise shapely figure . . . while nicely rounded limbs add an appearance of over-all beauty to even the poor and average figure. Because the legs are the one part of the body which always shows, glamorous legs help you look better in any clothes you wear — dresses, skirts, sports and play clothes, bathing suits, etc. They make you a more desirable dance partner and help you do the latest steps more gracefully. Well-formed legs help you in all sports; they enable you to swim, skate, bowl, play tennis, etc., with more ease and better form. They help you walk and stand with ease, with the posture which always wins admiration.

They give you more energy for work and play, help lessen fatigue, especially when your job or housework keeps you on your feet.

ANOTHER OF THE MANY WOMEN WHO HAVE SEEN RESULTS WRITES HER LEGS LOOK SO MUCH BETTER

AFTER

"My legs look so much better. I would like to express my gratitude for your course. They have helped my legs a great deal."
—writes Mrs. E. W., Monroe, Mich.

WRITTEN ABOUT IN LEADING HEALTH MAGAZINE

HEALTH CULTURE asked this authority on legs to write a series of articles on the fundamentals of this method. This magazine rightly believed that their readers should know about this wonderful technique. Many other leading magazines and newspapers have written about the priceless advantages of correct leg development.

TESTED AND PROVEN METHODS REQUIRE ONLY 15 PLEASANT MINUTES A DAY!

This amazing method has been used by beautiful stage and screen stars, professional models and women in every walk of life. Thousands have gladly paid high fees for personal instruction here in New York City. Now this famous expert makes it possible for any woman to try his method, requiring only 15 minutes a day, right in the comfort and privacy of her own home at a tiny fraction of this cost.

You get the complete, easy, step-by-step illustrated SCIENTIFIC LEG DEVELOPMENT TECHNIQUE with simple instructions for under-developed hips, thighs, knees, calves, ankles; gaining stronger legs; improving skin tone and circulation in legs; normal causes of skinny legs; plus measurement chart for each section of leg according to height and weight; also, how leg development may improve general health. Albert Dorne — probably the greatest money-maker in the history of commercial art. At the height of his career, he began a full-time search for people who like to draw.

He's Looking for People Who Like to Draw

TODAY HUNDREDS of men and women who never thought they could be artists are working happily at easels and drawing boards, making pictures, and getting well paid for it. They all can thank Albert Dorne, a famous artist who devotes almost his full time to helping other people become artists.

Some of the people Dorne has helped

Don Smith of New Orleans is an example. A few years ago, he knew nothing about art, even doubted he had talent. Now he is an illustrator with a large advertising agency.

John Busketta is another. He was a pipefitter's helper in a big gas company. Today he still works for the same company, but as an artist in the advertising department, with a big increase in pay.

Harriet Kuzniewski was bored with an "ordinary" job before she heard of Albert Dorne. Today she does high-style fashion illustration in New York.

With the right training, Wanda Pickulski gave up her typing job to become fashion artist for a local department store.

John Whitaker of Memphis was an airline clerk two years ago. Recently he won a national cartooning contest and was signed to do a newspaper comic strip.

Long before Albert Dorne started looking for people who like to draw, they came to him for advice and help. Since he alone could only help a few of these people he called together America's most successful artists — men like Norman Rockwell, Jon Whitcomb, Stevan Dohanos and Al Parker.

A Plan To Help Others

He said: "All over America, there are people who like to draw, who could be turned into good artists. Why can't we give these people the training they need—including all the trade secrets and know-how we've learned over the years? I'm suggesting a new kind of school—a home-study art school that would give talented people the best professional art training, no matter where they live."

The famous artists agreed. Taking time from their busy careers, they spent several years creating a remarkable series of art lessons covering every aspect of drawing and painting. They illustrated their lessons with over 5,000 "here's-how" illustrations. The lessons start from scratch and cover every skill a top artist needs. Finally, the famous artists developed a wonderful way to give each student personal correction and advice all through his training.

Albert Dorne is not surprised by the success of his students. "The art field is growing. We keep getting calls from all over the country, asking us for practical well-trained students who can step into full-time or part-time art jobs."

Famous Artists Talent Test

To find others with art talent worth developing, the famous artists created a 12-page talent test. Thousands paid $1 for this test, but now the School offers it free and will grade it free. If you show talent on the test, you will be eligible for training by the School. No obligation. Simply mail coupon. It might be your first step to an exciting, well-paid career in art.
